Property Accounting With Sage Oct 23 2021 There are few books on how to perform accounting for property managers and property investors. This book explains the basic principles needed to correctly record accounting information relating to property. It uses worked examples for setting up and recording information in the popular Sage 50 accounting package. This book was written by people who are not accountants, tax advisors or Independent Financial Advisors. After 20 years in the property management business the author knows how to present accounts to his own advisors efficiently. The book does not offer any accountancy or tax advice it makes it very clear that the author is not qualified in any of these fields. What the book does bring to the table are systems to simplify working with accountants and other advisors. This should help to keep your costs down when asking for advice and direction from your professional advisors. The book outlines the very basic principles of accounting and how to use them with the Sage 50 Accounting Package. Once these principles are understood the book then takes the reader on a journey towards a viable and robust property management accounting system. The first part of the journey shows how to set up a property accounting system from scratch. This includes setting up accounts for the capital invested in the business and how to input any transactions that occurred before setting up with a Sage Accounting package. The second part of the journey starts after your advisor has signed off your starting position. This is where your property management business continues to record new transactions. One example is that it tackles items such as why recording capital repayment vs interest only mortgages are treated differently and why. The journey continues with a brief look at what financial reports are needed and why. This part of the journey requires input from your accountant and tax adviser. The author makes clear two things here. Firstly, your tax and financial affairs will be different to anyone else's affairs which is why you need advisors who know you well. Secondly, producing reports once you have captured the data is now an extremely simple task. Finally, the book discusses how to take backups and restores of the data captured. This crucial safety net is often glossed over or ignored completely. Here, the whole subject is covered so the reader's property management business should be protected in the event of any form of data loss due to computer system failure, burglary or other cause.

The Silver Thread of Life Oct 30 2019 Do you sense there is more to life than you can see with your eyes? If so, you are like the many people in these true stories who testified with open minds to the spiritual events which changed their lives. The book will open your mind to the endless possibilities of spiritual interventions which saved lives and profoundly altered their futures. These forces affect everybody, all of us, at one time or another. Phillip Chute has been a tax preparer and Enrolled Agent with the IRS for 40 years. His charismatic personality draws his clients towards relating their personal experiences with him, something that he, himself can relate to-especially those that carry spirituality in them. He believes that we are all connected spiritually through the thread of life which is our soul. This is how the book, The Silver Thread of Life is conceived. The book contains true accounts and dozens of amazing life-changing spiritual interventions. The writer puts the reader in the moment of the occurrences of spirituality which are true events experienced by real-life people.

The Global Findex Database 2017 Apr 04 2020 In 2011 the World Bank—with funding from the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation—launched the Global Findex database, the world's most comprehensive data set on how adults save, borrow, make payments, and manage risk. Drawing on survey data collected in collaboration with Gallup, Inc., the Global Findex database covers more than 140 economies around the world. The initial survey round was followed by a second one in 2014 and by a third in 2017. Compiled using nationally representative surveys of more than 150,000 adults age 15 and above in over 140 economies, The Global Findex Database 2017: Measuring Financial Inclusion and the Fintech Revolution includes updated indicators on access to and use of formal and informal financial services. It has additional data on the use of financial technology (or fintech), including the use of mobile phones and the Internet to conduct financial transactions. The data reveal opportunities to expand access to financial services among people who do not have an account—the unbanked—as well as to promote greater use of digital financial services among those who do have an account. The Global Findex database has become a mainstay of global efforts to promote financial inclusion. In addition to being widely cited by scholars and development practitioners, Global Findex data are used to track progress toward the World Bank goal of Universal Financial Access by 2020 and the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals. The database, the full text of the report, and the underlying country-level data for all figures—along with the questionnaire, the survey methodology, and other relevant materials—are available at www.worldbank.org/globalindex.
